

Windows Quick Start

Two clicks and you're riding with Linda

Howdy, Boss. Windows folks — this is for you. No terminal. No PowerShell. No tech headaches. Just unzip and double-click. You'll be talking to Linda in a few minutes.

The whole setup — 2 steps

Step 1 — Unzip your LindaAI folder

Right-click the LindaAI `.zip` you downloaded Extract All pick a home for it (your Desktop is perfect). Open the folder.

Step 2 — Double-click `Start-LindaAI.bat`

That's the one file that does everything. Double-click it and let it run.

That's the whole setup. Seriously.

What you'll see

1. A window opens and says "Saddling up LindaAI for you..."
2. First time only: it installs what your PC needs (about 3-5 minutes — grab a coffee).

You don't have to do anything; it handles it.

3. Linda's window opens. Type `/login` and sign in when the browser pops up (one time only).
4. Say "Howdy" — and Linda answers back, ready to work.

Every time after that

Just double-click `Start-LindaAI.bat` again. No installing, no login — Linda's open in seconds. You can even pin it to your taskbar for one-click access.

If something hiccups

- "Almost there — double-click one more time"? Windows just needs a beat to register the new install. Double-click `Start-LindaAI.bat` again and it finishes. Totally normal.
- A blue "Windows protected your PC" box? Click More info Run anyway. It's safe —

it's your LindaAI launcher.

- "winget not found"? Open the Microsoft Store, search App Installer, install/update it, then double-click the .bat again.

- Still stuck? Holler at support@send.lindaai-brain.com — we'll get you riding.

That's it, Boss

No command line. No PowerShell wrestling. Unzip double-click "Howdy." Welcome to the family. Now go put your crew to work. Yeeee Hawww.
